BULLETIN

Paris, April 19.—After a conference lasting more than four hours, which was attended by both Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino, of Italy, the council of four today failed to reach an agreement on the Adriatic questions. The council adjourned to meet tomorrow morning for a continuance of the discussion.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Paris, April 19.—Italy's territorial claims, especially in the Adriatic, were presented to the Council of Four today by Baron Sidney Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister.

The fact that Baron Sonnino, and not Premier Orlando, presented the Italian case to the council is regarded as significant because the foreign minister is an extremist advocate of Italy's utmost claims. It was Baron Sonnino who signed the treaty of London and he now holds Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau to the pledges made in the treaty.

When the council met it was with the intention of devoting its entire time today to consideration of the Italian claims and with the expectation that a settlement would be reached before night. The Italians maintain that their position regarding possession of Fiume is unalterable.

The British and French premiers, it is understood, are inclined toward some sort of compromise on the question. It is said that President Wilson's attitude of opposing the Italian aspirations is unchanged.

DEMAND RHINE FRONTIER

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, April 19.—In political circles here much significance is attached to the resolution adopted by the French senate demanding the insertion in the peace treaty of guarantees suggested by the allied high command. The resolution may, perhaps, be read in connection with the interview with Marshal Foch had by a correspondent of the Daily Mail, in which the allied generalissimo insisted on the necessity of regarding the Rhine as the real barrier against another German attack, because the Rhine could be held with a small force, whereas as the political front.

278 Germans Lose
Thrones During War

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Berlin, April 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A German professor figures out that the abdications and dethronements in Germany include 278 persons. In Germany there were one king, one queen, fifteen princes, sixteen princesses, five dukes and one duchess. Prussia has sent 33 royalties into exile, including the emperor, empress, twenty princes and eleven princesses. Brunswick is at the bottom of the list with only the ducal couple and their three children. The two tiny principalities of Reuss, whose area is hardly one-third hundredth part of that of Prussia, have exiled 36 royalties.

The principality of Lippe, only about 20 square miles larger than the Reuss states had a royal family numbering 24 persons. Most extraordinary is the case of Schaumburg-Lippe with its area of 130 square miles, where there was nearly one royal personage for every five square miles. These include the reigning prince, seventeen princes and seven princesses.

LOWDEN VETOES
BILL TO INCREASE
HOSPITAL TAXESDisapproves Measure
Raising Levy from 3 to 5 Mills.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Governor Lowden vetoed today the Dietrich bill authorizing cities of less than 100,000 inhabitants to increase the special tax for public hospitals from three to five mills on the dollar and to issue bonds for such hospitals payable out of the taxes.

The governor pointed out that the Dietrich measure contained no provision for a referendum which, he declared, was a settled policy in Illinois.

Expressing himself as opposed to the principle of special taxes for special purposes, except in pressing emergencies, Governor Lowden called attention of the legislators to measures now pending which propose the administration of all tax questions by a tax commission. The creation of such a commission, he stated, would result in a more equitable assessment of property and would in a measure remove the need for increased taxes.

Limerick, Ireland, April 19.—Major J. C. P. Wood, the British aviator who left Eastchurch, England, yesterday afternoon in his airplane for this city, fell into the Irish sea last night. Major Wood and Captain C. S. Wylie, his navigator, were not injured.

The accident occurred near Holyhead, to which place Navigator Wylie went for assistance. It is believed the machine can be saved. No details of the accident have been received here, the news of Major Wood's falling into the sea having been received by telephone from Curragh.

Wood's machine will be repaired at Holyhead if it is not badly damaged it was stated this morning by W. Kemp, manager for the airplane company, which constructed it. He had not yet been advised of the extent of the repairs necessary, but if it was possible the machine would be brought to Limerick at once so that Wood might start on his trans-Atlantic flight as early as Monday.

London, April 19.—Major Wood's airplane, which fell in the Irish Sea last night, has been towed into Holyhead, according to the Daily Mail. The machine was uninjured and Major Wood and his navigator are safe.

It is reported in London this morning that Lancaster Parker, an aviator, who flew from Eastchurch yesterday soon after Major Wood left, and who had not been heard from over night, has landed safely.

Major J. C. P. Wood left Eastchurch, England, at 3:15 o'clock Friday afternoon. During the evening he was reported to have passed Sheerness on the Thames, a short distance from Eastchurch and then was lost for several hours. Late at night it was reported that a wireless message from his airplane had been received in Liverpool but this was doubted as Liverpool was far to the north of the route he intended to follow.

TREES PLANTED
AT COURT HOUSE
FOR SOLDIER DEADImpressive Ceremonies
Attended Planting of Two Trees.

At the invitation of the Woman's and the Philanthropic clubs a goodly little company of Lee county folks gathered in the court house yard at four o'clock Friday afternoon to witness the planting of two handsome Norway maples in memory of the boys who gave their lives in the World War. Here and there was one who had lost a son, a brother, a husband, and, though the services accompanying the planting meant much to all, it meant the most to them.

Mrs. Adolph Eichler, president of the Woman's club, explained the purpose of the gathering, reading the list of names for which the trees will stand for years as a beautiful memorial. Thirty-five boys laid down their lives in fields of France, in naval service, or in camps at home, as the offering from Lee county that the world's most precious heritages might not be lost and something of this thought was carried through the entire service.

Children from the Dixon schools sang a song, the words of which were composed by one of the children of the eighth grade, Rev. F. D. Altman offered prayer, and then with the presidents of the two clubs, Mrs. Eichler and Miss Fannie Murphy, leading the way, the company gathered about the two trees, the school children singing a song of dedication to the memory of the soldier dead as the caretakers of the court house filled in the earth about the trees.

Return was made to the space about the court house doors where following an introduction by Miss Murphy, John H. Byers made an effective patriotic address, calling to memory the many times that Illinois men have had to shoulder arms for their country and bringing to the minds of all the meaning of their sacrifices.

A little sketch of George Kilmer, enlisted soldier, who died in France, and his poem on trees was given by William Bardwell, Dixon high school boy. The school children sang again and the ceremonies ended with prayer by Rev. J. M. Tidball.

33RD TO BE REVIEWED.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Coblenz, April 19.—Secretary of War Baker and General Pershing are on their way to the American Rhine bridgehead and will review the 33d division at Dieckrich, Luxembourg, on April 22, and the 89th division the next day near Treves, according to information received at the Coblenz headquarters. The secretary and the American commander will then proceed to the Coblenz area, where their stay is expected to extend over into the second day.

Various points of interest, including the corps and division headquarters on the east bank of the Rhine, will be shown to the official visitors. On the return trip they will probably review the 90th division, occupying the area east of Treves.

ARE YOU WORTHY OF THEM?

In the hushed wards of the great military hospitals in America and in France, maimed heroes of the strife are fighting a silent battle. Handicapped through the loss of sight, or the use of limb they are struggling against that which they fear the most, the loss of courage. In their souls is developing a fresh strength which had its birth amid the holocaust of war. Face to face with death they gained a new appreciation of the realities of life. The things which were of consuming interest in the days that were, faded into insignificance as those basic qualities of life gained a new magnitude under the light which heralds the dawn of eternity.

Strength of soul, stoutness of heart, invests in the inspired crusader for right, a resignation which finds him receptive of any fate.

In the halls of pain, these men are fighting anew the battle for solace, for the relief and comfort which comes only through courage.

Amid the human salvage of war there is no complaining. These heroes bear their misfortunes with fortitude. They are looking toward the morrow when they shall again take their places in the marts of trade, the highways and the byways of life, each to perform in his own way his assigned role.

We are on the eve of the last popular loan. Consider well the courage, the fortitude, the sacrifice of these men.

What have you given that compares with it?
What denial have you accepted which is worthy of their splendid devotion to duty?

Dare you complain that you have gone the limit when the sacrifice of these boys is weighed against your "bit"?
They are soldiers all. How about you?
Make answer Monday—Lee county's Volunteer Day.

PEACE SUMMARY.

With the question of Poland's western boundaries settled, the council of four of the peace conference in Paris was prepared today to take up anew the problem of the Adriatic for definite disposition.

As a result of the council's deliberations yesterday, Danzig, the Baltic port claimed by Poland, is to become an international harbor it is understood. Poland will be given a corridor through Germany territory. It is said, so that she may have free access to Danzig. Whether this corridor coincides with that delineated by the peace conference some weeks ago is not known.

Italy's claims to Fiume and the Dalmatian coast will be laid before the council of four by Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister. A final decision on the question is expected to be reached before the end of today's session.

To Press Irish Claims.

Representatives of Irish societies in America will confer with Col. E. M. House of the American mission today relative to the claims of Ireland before the conference. It is understood that they will ask that three Irish delegates be permitted to go to Paris for a hearing.

Another nationalist movement within the British empire may be brought to the official notice of the delegates by representatives of Egyptian elements which are demanding independence for their country. The Egyptians now are in France and are expected to reach Paris soon in an endeavor to lay their case before the conference. Conditions at Cairo are reported to be grave as a result of this movement.

Rumania Gets Territory.

It is announced that Rumanian troops have been ordered to occupy territory which was provisionally allotted by the peace conference to that country in Transylvania, formerly a province of the Austro-Hungarian empire. When the new soviet government was established in Budapest it was declared that the turning over of this particular territory to Rumania was one of the causes of the overthrow of the regime headed by Count Michael Karolyi.

Disorders in Bremen.

German government troops and Bavarian soviet forces are believed to be fighting in or around Munich, but little as to the trend of the events has been learned. In northern Germany, labor troubles continue. Bremen being the storm center of what appears to be a serious strike, while strike movements also persist in Berlin.

Reports from Paris seem to indicate that President Wilson plans to return to America the middle of next month and that an extra session of congress may be called to meet some time between May 15 and June 1.

NICKEL DRINK IS SOON TO DISAPPEAR

The nickel soft drink has apparently run its course. With the first day of May, when government taxes on drinks go into effect, less than two weeks away, proprietors of Dixon soft drink parlors are casting about to see what will be the best program to put into effect.

Some dealers announce they will advance the price of all fountain drinks from a nickel to ten cents with the first of next month. Others favor the collection of the one cent war tax on every drink sold and are satisfied with that. Still others say that they have not determined what they will do.

It may be that some considerate dispensers will continue to relieve the thirst of the multitude at a nickel per, but generally speaking the five cent drink is slowly passing away with each succeeding day and by April 30, it may be a thing of the past entirely. The new ruling provides for the collection of one cent on every drink, dish of ice cream, ice cream cone or goods dispensed at the soda fountain.

Record of Ex-Mayor Henry Schmidt One of Achievement.

When Ex-Mayor Henry Schmidt planned the gold star, the insignia of office, on Mayor Mark D. Smith's coat Wednesday morning at the adjourned meeting of the old city council, he performed his last official act of thirteen years' service given unselfishly to the welfare of the city of Dixon in which he has been a resident for thirty-five years.

And those thirteen years of service have constituted a record of which the retiring official may well be proud, for he comes out of office with an absolutely clean record, and with even his political opponents recognizing his sincerity, fidelity and constant fairness.

In Financial Department.

Mr. Schmidt was first elected to public office thirteen years ago this month, when he was chosen alderman by the voters of the Fifth ward, succeeding J. W. Watts in the city council. His colleague from the north side was Alderman James N. Sterling, and the council at that time met in the Steele building—the council chambers being in the rooms over Downing's grocery store.

With the organization of the council Mr. Schmidt was appointed chairman of the Finance committee of the council, the appointment being made by Mayor J. E. Edwards, whom Mr. Schmidt defeated for the mayoralty nine years later. From that time on he was always active in the financial management of the city, and from his appointment as a member of the Board of Local Improvements during his second year in the council he continued as a member of that body.

He took an active part in the campaign for the new city hall, and was chairman of the finance committee which sold the bonds for that purpose, and incidentally has had much to do with the management of the affairs of the city in such a manner as to enable the redemption of those bonds.

With the change of the city to com-

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

mission form of government the retiring public servant was chosen commissioner, and was placed in charge of the Department of Accounts and Finance, a position which he filled most excellently. He was elected Mayor four years ago and his record of achievements, in which he was most ably assisted by his colleagues in the council, reviewed by him in his valedictory address Wednesday morning, was a fitting close to a useful public life.

For All Improvements.

Ex-Mayor Schmidt was very instrumental in putting through many of the modern public improvements which have been constructed during his thirteen years of service. He has always been a fighter for permanent improvement, and many paved streets, sewers and sidewalks owe their being to his insistence, and his ability to find the means to provide for them.

With the cares of the public business lifted from his shoulders the ex-mayor may feel sure that the verdict of his fellow citizens is "Well Done."

ANOTHER DISCHARGED SOLDIER A SUICIDE

Rockford, April 19.—The name of John F. Musial was stamped on three military identification tags carried by a young man whose dead body was found in the Emerson summer cottage near the mouth of the Kishwaukee river at 8 o'clock last night by two soldiers from the camp who were horseback riding and stopped at the cottage.

The body lay stretched upon a mattress on the floor of the unoccupied cottage, a four ounce bottle of carbolic acid and a tumbler stood by the side of the mattress and the dead man's felt hat reposed on a chair, the identification tags strung on a string lying on top of the hat. The serial number on the tags was 2,417,448.

Inquiry at the personnel headquarters at Camp Grant brought the information that no man of that name had been received there and the discharge list was scanned without disclosing the name or number mentioned.

KINDERGARTEN EASTER PARTY

Twenty-five of the brightest little people gathered about the Kindergarten circle at the party given by the South Side Kindergarten at the E. C. Smith building yesterday afternoon and followed intently the guidance of their instructor, Miss Amy Petersberg, as they went through their pretty games and songs. Mothers and other grown-ups were interested observers, but, from the attitude of the little tots who so unconsciously of onlookers went through their little drills in happy, care-free manner, there might not have been a single guest nor stranger. Their cooperation with the others in the games was very pretty to see and their sum total of knowledge, evinced in what to them was purely play, was remarkable.

There were the pretty little greeting songs and bows, in which they learned courtesy to their teacher and fellow kindergartners, as well as self control and memory, knowing the days of the week, the names of the months and the use of the calendar, was a matter of pride to all; counting to twenty-five was a feat that any little four-year-old could be proud of, and most of them could do that in an understanding way. A very pretty feature was the patriotic drill and flag salute, with a pledge to speak the pure American language. Little songs from Mother Goose followed and were as heartily enjoyed by the little ones as they were by the grown folks. The training of the senses of sight, hearing, etc., was the object of several little games which it could be seen were accomplishing their purpose. Folk dances and dramatic games closed the program.

Then came what the children always enjoy, their customary Friday party, for which they bring fruit and cookies. Long tables covered with white paper were prettily decorated with yellow candles in crystal sticks and wide stripes of yellow crepe paper centering them. Each little tot wore at the table yellow caps made by themselves and as they daintily ate, they showed that they were learning correct service and consideration of others. After the luncheon each who chose might give some little song or recitation of their own choosing, the fore-runners of after-dinner talks when they should be grown-up folks. A nest containing three eggs of the Easter rabbit was the favor for each little tot.

The party was a very pretty one and quite convinced all the old folks present of the wisdom of the training received.

PRACTICAL CLUB MEETING

A very pleasant afternoon meeting of the Practical club was held Thursday with Clea Bunnell of North Ottawa avenue. The supper was given by Mrs. Lester Street, who told of the passing of the Creek Indians as a tribe, showing in connection with the paper some very interesting pictures of that part of Oklahoma occupied by these Indians, gathered by Mrs. Street during her last winter's visit there. In Oklahoma is the council house of the Creek Indians. Now that they have been disbanded they will no longer have use for this and it has been sold. The afternoon's program was one of unusual interest. The next meeting of the club will be held on May 2nd with Mrs. G. P. Powell.

FACTS ABOUT NEW VICTORY LOAN

Secretary Glass had full authority for the issue of the remainder of the long term Liberty bonds provided by act of congress for the financing of the war. He deemed it unwise to issue these bonds at the present time and asked for a new law permitting him to issue short-term notes. By the act of March 3, 1919, he was given authority to issue up to seven billions of one to five-year notes, at rates to be fixed by the secretary of the treasury, in determinations to be fixed by him, and redeemable at the option of the government before maturity on not less than four months' notice nor more than one year's notice. The law provided for four series of these notes, enjoying different degrees of tax exemptions. And the law provides an increase of two billions in the total of authorized but unissued Liberty bonds, making $7,022-512,000 now issuable.

The secretary decided to call for only four and a half billions of the short term notes at this time. If the unexpected should happen he still has the authority to issue two and a half billions more of these notes, also new Liberty bonds up to the limit above specified. Happily there is no probability that there will be any such calls.

Technical differences aside, there is no practical difference between Liberty bonds and the short term notes except that the notes may bear a higher rate of interest than the Liberty bonds, and that the notes run for a shorter time and are subject to call before stated maturity, and that a variety of exemptions and conversions are granted the holder.

Why the government specified notes for the Victory Liberty loan is unanswered by one of the high executives of the federal reserve bank:

"The primary purpose is to keep banking resources 'liquid.'"

"The banking institutions of the country are now carrying a very large amount in total of government war loans of previous issues, and it would be a serious mistake to ask them to add to their present holdings a very large share of the coming issue—a mistake which would be reflected in the curtailment it would necessitate in lines of commercial credit to firms, corporations and individuals.

"It is of the utmost importance that banking resources be kept liquid for commercial requirements, in order that the process of readjustment now going on may be expedited and a return to more nearly normal pre-war conditions.

"The war has taken comparatively little money out of the country, and the bulk of the war loans has gone into high wages to labor and large profits to productive industry. Savings deposits have grown tremendously and other general banking deposits have at least shown no decrease.

"The money is here and the appeal in the coming loan must be made to those who now possess it. Because of their short term and the satisfactory rate of interest which they will bear, the new notes will appeal to business men and our great commercial interests, as well as to investors generally even without the pressure of the war in progress.

"The loan will go well, but it is absolutely essential to realize for it the widest possible measure of distribution."

Every dollar of these bonds (or notes) should be taken by the people. This will make the people richer, more prosperous, and it will keep our banking resources liquid. That means that credits will be easier and more money will be available for all building and improvement projects. It will mean continued prosperity. Every person who invests in these new government securities is giving a boost toward more and longer

It is but small payment for a great and Lee county is one of the pioneers in the Volunteer Day system. The plan of this county in buying all of its bonds in one day, with every subscriber going to the polls to get his share, is being adopted all over the nation. It is the true American spirit exemplified, for there is no good reason why men should be exhorted and begged to invest their money in government bonds that the government may "Finish the Job." Busy men should not be compelled to work on soliciting committees, calling upon other men simply to get them to do their duty. Lee county men and women want to do their duty so much that they are willing to go after their bonds, and pay their quotas—and they will do it on Monday, at every polling precinct in the county.

IT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.

A Canadian senator who took a holi-

Interviewer as warmly in favor of the annexation of his country by the govern-caused the hair of his countrymen to bristle and naturally, too, the senator hastened to repudiate the interview.

Public opinion will condemn the care-be remembered that at Atlantic City is sold the stuff which annually makes thousands of men careless of speech, some of them as distinguished as the traveler from the Dominion.

LOAN DRIVE HAS OPENED IN MANY CITIES ALREADY

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 19.—First reports to the treasury today of the Victory Liberty Loan campaign disclosed that the three weeks' drive to raise $4,500-000,000 already has been started in hundreds of communities. Without awaiting the formal opening Monday, committees were at work today gathering promises of subscriptions to be officially recorded Monday. Many cities had arranged parades and mass meetings of citizens for today and tomorrow to boost the loan, and in a number of churches preachers have planned to discuss the urgent necessity of America's pushing the loan, in connection with their Easter services.

To raise the entire amount of the loan it will be necessary for the country to subscribe at the rate of $250,000,000
each day.

A feature of the opening of the loan Monday will be the testing of a new wireless telephonic apparatus by which a man flying in an airplane above the city will deliver an address to a throng on the treasury steps through use of a sound amplifier set up on the ground.
Admiral Sims will be speaker on this occasion and Billie Burke, the actress, will sell bonds from the treasury steps.

Old Age Pension for Workers is Proposed

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—An old age pension system for Illinois, providing an income varying from 50 cents to $2.50 a week for pensioners, is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Mooneyham and referred to the judiciary committee.

No person receiving an outside income in excess of $150 a year would be eligible for a pension.

A person benefiting must be 70 years or more of age, must have resided in Illinois twenty years and must be a citizen of the United States.

For administration of the plan, the bill provides for local pension boards, a pension officer for each congressional district, and a central commission composed of the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, and superintendent of public instruction.

Pension payments would be met by legislative appropriation.

Persons receiving aid from state, county or city charitable sources, who are supported by fraternal societies or are confined in state hospitals or penal institutions would not be eligible.

SEC. DANIELS TO DO BEST TO GET AMERICANS HOME

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Coblenz, Friday, April 18.—(Delayed)
—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, speaking to the men of the second division of the American of occupation this afternoon, told his audience that he hoped the army would be taken home as soon as possible.
"As captain of the ferry boats which brought the American army to Europe," he said, "I wish to say that I have under my command 70,000 American boys who also are clamoring to return to their homes. I have told those sailor boys they would get home, but first they must help get back to the United States the boys who fought in France and Belgium."
Mr. Daniels contrasted today's assemblage with that of the Germans who stood on the same ground in 1914 before the beginning of the war.
"Their chiefs," he said, "had visions of conquering the world, but America entered the war without desire for territorial gains."
The secretary's reference to the soldiers' return home was answered with cheers and shouts of "how soon" were heard. When asked for the dates when the men would be taken back to America, he smiled but did not answer.

Marines Are Decorated
This morning during the review of the division the Belgian Order of the Crown was conferred on Captain Gaines Moseley and the Order of Leopold on Captain Robert Balke. Both are officers in the marine corps. Thirty-three distinguished service crosses and 65 French war crosses were presented of ficers and men of the division. On the reviewing stand with Secretary Daniels Mrs. Daniels, Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the Third army, Maj. Gen. John A. LeJeune, commander of the Second division, Brig. Gen. John L. Hines, commander of the Third corps and naval and army officers, who are accompanying the secretary on his trip.

Following the review Secretary and Mrs. Daniels were given a ride across the fields to the speaker's stand on a caterpillar tractor.
Mr. Daniels and his party will be the guests of General Mangin, commander of the French army of occupation at Mayence tomorrow.

MADE FINE RECORD

EX-MAYOR SCHMIDT

When the former Chief Executive of the city retired from public life Wednesday morning, he completed thirteen years of continuous unselfish and efficient service of the city of Dixon. His record is one of which he and his friends may well be proud.

BROTHERS IN SWEAT

One way in which the city home gardener benefits the farmer is that the gardener helps to meet the demand for fresh vegetables, thus helping to leave the farmer free to give all his energies toward the production of the wheat and corn and meat and other "first line of defense" foods expected from the farmer.

Another way in which city gardens are working for the benefit of the farmers is that through their gardens town and city people are coming to possess an insight into the obstacles with which the farmer must contend.

When the city gardener converts what he thinks must be a ton or two of perspiration into a productive tomato patch, he begins to realize, for instance, how much sweat the farmer has to spend for his wheat crop.

If such a realization won't help both the city gardener and the farmer, then the laws of economics and the theory of the brotherhood of man are all wrong.

OGLE CO. SOLDIER PRISONER 29 MONTHS

Alexander Oliver, residing near Oregon, passed twenty-nine months of his army service as a prisoner of the Huns. He has returned to his home in pretty good condition, too, in spite of the system of starvation carried on in the German prison camps. Oliver didn't wait for Uncle Sam to get into the war, but hurried to Canada and enlisted. He fought with our Canadian cousins at Ypres when they were outnumbered eight to one and had to face liquid fire and gas, a terrible baptism for raw recruits. Turnip soup with a few peas in it was his food in the prison camp. Two days before the armistice was signed he made his escape and two days later made his way into Holland. He was sent to England to recuperate.

Attorney William Leech of Amboy was a business caller in Dixon yesterday.

SPRING VALLEY BOY IS U. S. ACE

An Illinois boy, who has returned from the battle field overseas covered with glory and with medals bestowed for bravery in the air, is now on a tour of the state of Illinois boosting the Victory Liberty Loan "finishing the job." He is Adjutant Glen Sitterly of Spring Valley, Bureau county. This twenty-one year old lad, an "ace" of the air, with a long record of daring deeds and thrilling flights, is now an "ace" of the Liberty Loan.

Adjutant Sitterly went to France in April, 1917, with the Beloit College Ambulance Unit. Upon arriving in France, he transferred to the French Foreign Legion, and then on into the French aviation service as a member of the Lafayette squadron. He was discharged from the French Army February 23, 1919, and returned to America in March having been in America just four weeks.

Adjutant Sitterly has been decorated four times for distinguished service in action. He was decorated with the French Medaille on a flyer by France. He also wears the croix de guerre with three palms, and the Lafayette ribbon, presented by the French Minister of War to Americans in the French aviation. He is a member of the French Squadron 38 which Captain Madon commands. Captain Madon having brought down 79 official German planes. This squadron is the most famous squadron in the French aviation, having brought down 117 official German planes. For that it received three citations, which gave it the fourragere of the croix de guerre. Each of the fifteen pilots of this squadron has the right to carry the fourragere.

Sitterly was brought down three different times by German planes following flights in which his plane or motor was so damaged that he was forced to land just within the French lines. Even with these three smashups, Adjutant Sitterly never was wounded.

Adjutant Sitterly started work on the front in September, 1917, as pilot of a three-seated photographic plane which took pictures of the German lines, also did protection work for day bombing and kept general watch and patrols on the lines during calm periods on the front. Later, as is the custom in French aviation where a pilot starts flying on a larger, slower machine, if he makes good on this plane, he is transferred to the small scout machines.

Sitterly spent the last five months of action up to the armistice flying these scout machines, the famous spud, with the 38th Squadron. While flying the photographic machine, and later on the scout machines, Adjutant Sitterly himself and with his gunners, was credited with six German planes.

SWISS CHARD

Swiss Chard is closely related to common garden beets, but is grown exclusively for its leaf stems, which are used as greens. It is one of the garden vegetables that have come into favor in recent years, and deserves much more attention from home gardeners. Perhaps no garden crop used for greens will give so large a return on a small area or continue to produce through so great a period of time.

Plant the seeds the same as common garden beets and thin the plants to six inches in the row. The thinnings may be used for early greens. As the season advances the outer leaves can be pulled from the remaining plants and used, while the plants go on producing greens. The variety known as Lucullus is most commonly grown. — United States Department of Agriculture.

TURNIPS

In the Northern States it is an old saying that "you plant turnips the 25th of July, whether wet or dry." While this is not literally true, it is customary to plant turnips in July and on land that has produced a crop of early vegetables.

Turnips, however, may be grown to perfection during the early springtime and throughout the South they furnish one of the main sources of early greens. In addition to the use of their roots, fallown turnips produce winter and early spring greens throughout the Southern States without any protection or special cultivation.

Where they are planted in the spring time, the seeds are generally sown in rows about fourteen inches apart and the plants thinned to about two inches in the row, the thinnings being used as greens. For fall planting the seed is generally sown broadcast and slightly raked into the soil. — United States Department of Agriculture.

LOWDEN LANDS ON EQUALIZING BOARD

Governor Frank O. Lowden in a statement issued to the press branded as "wholly false" recent alleged propaganda of the members of the state board of equalization intended to defeat the governor's revenue bill, which abolishes the board. The statement is as follows:

"My attention was called today to a letter written recently by a member of the state board of equalization to a member of one of the boards of review of the state. This letter states that it is proposed to abolish not only the state board of equalization but also township assessors, boards of assessors, boards of review and county treasurers, supervisors of assessments and all taxing bodies of the state.

13TH DISTRICT TO REMAIN UNCHANGED

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Reappointment of the northeastern counties of the state to create two new republican congressional districts has been agreed upon tentatively, it was announced today.

LaSalle county, which up to the present time has been the barrier halting an agreement, is combined with Will and Grundy counties to form one of the new districts.

This is called the Barr district as it is understood State Senator Richard J. Barr, of Joliet, will make the race for congress from that district if the bill is passed by the general assembly. The other new district will be composed of Lake county and part of Cook county outside the corporate limits of the city of Chicago.

Kendall county will be added to the 11th district, which will consist of McHenry, Kane, DuPage and Kendall counties.

The 12th district will consist of Winnebago, Boone and DeKalb counties. The thirteenth district will not be changed.

Unless a monkey wrench is thrown into the machinery the committee will meet next week to report the bill out as herein outlined.

PASSING OF EXTREMELY LONG SKIRTS FORETELLS PRESTIGE OF SHORT ONES

New York, April 19.—The models of New York are quite as capricious as the weather. No sooner is a style launched and accepted than something new attracts the eye of the designers and then—another new mode. Such has happened with the popular long, narrow skirt. No longer is the long skirt the smartest thing to wear. Skirts are becoming shorter.

A Chic Design in Challis.

This change we may easily hold Paris responsible for. During the craze for the long skirt here, Paris slowly shook her head in disapproval, and now we are feeling the effects of her negative mien. Street dresses, suits, evening gowns, every skirt is becoming shorter. This will be a welcomed style, for the discomfort of the long, tight skirt will be eliminated. The shorter length makes the skirt less cumbersome about the ankle, thus affording more freedom in walking. And freedom in walking means grace of carriage, so we herald the mode with a sigh of content.

The same attitude that Paris took toward the long skirt has been lavished on the straw hat. Though New York is overrun with hats of straw, reports from Paris say that in the restaurant and on the street one sees little if any hats of straw. The French women realize the folly of rushing the seasons and are clinging to their hats which are developed in fabrics. Of these satin seems to be the most predominate material used, and usually one finds ostrich trimming present. If a touch of Spring is desired, the hats are graced with coquettish little flowers in pastel shades.

Old-Time Challis.

A myriad of designs are offered in the fetching challis creations that promise to be an essential part of the summer wardrobe. This soft woolen material makes up in the prettiest of designs. If the challis is of a plain color, then one deftly embroiders it in silk or wool of a contrasting color. If it possesses pretty dots or delicate stripes then one adds collar of sheer organdie.

or soft linen with cuffs and a shush to match. Dressed in a challis frock one wears a hat of the same material which is faced with straw or some contrasting material and completes the costume with a challis parasol. A frock of foulard will be desirable, and a Paris designer presents an innovation in the looping four times of the back and front panel and bound in white at the edges.

Moire Crepe de Chine.

A new note in overblouses is the use of moire crepe de Chine. Moire crepe de Chine is effective in black with bonnaz embroidery in pastel colorings with girde of self material. The oriental spirit enters into these blouses, which have Chinese lines and Japanese motifs. The Chinese round neck and side opening are used, and from Japan comes the pagoda and the charming little garden scenes that are developed in fine beads and decorate the unique blouses.

Three Materials Combined.

For late summer wear, organdie and linen will be used for these blouses. So strongly are they favored that all materials available are used for their development.

Tier Skirts.

Skirts built up in tiers are especially favored by fashion. The frock shown here is developed in flowered challis and the chemise and cuffs are of crisp organdie. The grace of line and simplicity of style are the salient features. A combination of three materials is seen in the suit coat illustrated. The underskirt foundation section is developed in black satin, the upper section and coat are developed in serge, and the vest and collar are of a heavy broadcated material, rich in color and ornamental in design.

For the magnificent waistcoats which are seen, many designers use wide ribbon of fantastic and brilliant colorings. It may be purchased at any of the shops and with the aid of a helpful pattern may be executed by the home dressmaker.

SALVATION ARMY DEDICATES FIRST PERMANENT HUT

Paris, March 19.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—To give the American soldiers a center where they can both lodge and spend their time profitably throughout the day, the Salvation Army has just opened its first "hut" in Paris proper. It is situated on the Rue Clemenceau, and was formerly the barracks of the 78th French infantry regiment. The "hut" accommodates 3,000 men.

Several welfare organizations which operate among the American soldiers, including the Young Men's Christian Welfare League, Knights of Columbus, and the American Library Association have combined to offer the boys here both instruction and entertainment. Doughnuts, pies, flapjacks and cookies "as mother makes them," are provided for all corners. Athletic meetings alternate with singing and lectures, and there is much interest in a course of fencing bouts, which has just started. Similar institutions are being opened at the big seaports such as Brest, Bordeaux and St. Nazaire, where the American authorities have placed 25 hangars at the disposal of the Salvation Army.

To minister to the comforts of lonely American units in the devastated districts of Belgium and northern France, where the accommodation is one of the most primitive description and where social centers are few and far between, Colonel William A. McIntyre of New York, has organized a system of traveling kitchens where the men will be able to obtain well cooked food and eat it in comfort instead of in a haphazard fashion on the doorstep of some half-demolished house, as is now the rule rather than the exception.

This Proposed Bill Will Affect Dixon

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Powers of the department of public works and buildings to protect lakes and navigable rivers from pollution by sewage disposal are enlarged in bills introduced by Senator Essington and Representative Gregory.

The measures which are identical would amend the law of 1911 creating the rivers and lakes commission.

"It shall not be lawful," says the proposed law, "for any person, persons, firms or corporation to throw, discharge, dump or deposit, or cause, suffer or procure to be thrown, discharged, dumped or deposited any acids, industrial wastes, poisonous effluent or dyestuff, clay or other washings or any refuse matter of any kind or description containing solids, substance or matter discolored or otherwise polluting any navigable lake or river of this state or lake or river connected with or the waters of which discharge into any navigable lake or river of this state; provided, however, that this shall not be interpreted to prevent discharge of water flowing from streets and sewers and passing therefrom in a liquid state free of all solids and deleterious substances, content and matter."

The department of public works is given authority to determine whether lakes or rivers are being polluted and to prescribe sanitary methods for neutralizing acids and poisonous substances and for separating solids from liquid discharges into lakes or rivers.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)

SHORT SUPPLIES OF CORN CAUSE MARKET UPTURN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 19.—Corn prices took a decided upturn today influenced by rapid absorption of wheat supplies and by the smallness of wheat supplies and by the smallness of wheat supplies and by the smallness of wheat supplies.

Oats sympathized with the strength of corn. After opening a shade to 3¢ higher, with July 67½¢ to 67½¢, the market continued to ascend.

Provisions reflected the advances in grain. At first, however, the market was weak owing to absence of support.

Weekly Grain Review.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 19.—Immense shipment of foodstuffs to Europe have resulted this week in record-breaking high prices for provisions and have lifted cereal values to the topmost level yet this season. Compared with a week ago, the corn market this morning was 3¢ to 3½¢ up. Oats at an advance of 1½¢ to 5½¢ and provisions showing gains of 50¢ to $2.80.

Food Administration officials were quoted as saying that life and order in Europe depended on the speedy outflow of supplies from this side of the Atlantic and that a comprehensive survey indicated world demand for wheat would absorb virtually the entire surplus from the 1919 harvest. In the United States without impairing much if at all the billion dollar fund provided by Congress. Under these circumstances bullish sentiment pervaded the corn market, and was emphasized by prolonged wet weather and by reports of a scarcity of cars. Assertions that in the autumn Europe would be threatened with a deluge instead of a dearth of supplies failed to make any lasting impression.

Oats displayed independent strength on account of serious delays to seeking. The big jumps in provisions were ascribed to the urgency of export demand together with a falling-off in the volume of hog arrivals.

CHILDREN MAY WIN TROPHIES OF WAR

The school children of Lee county are to be given an opportunity of securing trophies of the world war, according to an announcement that has been received from Myra H. Wilson, chairman of the Woman's Liberty Loan committee, by County Superintendent L. W. Miller. The treasury department is supplying the helmets which will be offered as prizes in Lee county. The plans under which the contest is to be conducted have not been arranged and will be announced at a later date. Some counties in Illinois have taken advantage of this opportunity and the helmets have been given to the pupils writing the best composition on the Fifth Liberty loan drive. In other instances the souvenir of the war has been awarded to the school child selling the largest amount of the bonds.

Can Accept Parcels for Overseas Transit

The local postoffice has received a copy of a ruling issued recently from Washington, which permits the mailing of packages to the American Expeditionary Forces in France without the permit from the officer in command. Heretofore, it has been necessary for individuals to first obtain a permit from the officer in charge of the contingent before sending parcel post packages. Under the late ruling packages weighing seven pounds and less will be accepted in the parcel post for consignment overseas.

Refuting An Error—The Telegraph is able to authoritatively deny that John H. It has been established that Mr. Byers contemplates using those implements at his own home—probably to prove to his own satisfaction that government seeds will grow.

Veterans to Give Dance—The Dixon post of Spanish-American War Veterans will celebrate the twenty-first anniversary of their departure for service in the Spanish-American war, with a dancing party to be held in Rosbrook hall on Thursday, April 24. The Hef-Slothower orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

To Attend Conference—County Superintendent L. W. Miller today received a call to come to Springfield tomorrow evening and remain over Monday and Tuesday, in attendance at a conference of county superintendents of the state. He will also transact business with the legal advisor of schools of the state during his stay in Springfield, returning home Wednesday.

G, who recently returned from overseas, and who was given his honorable discharge from the service this week. He will arrive in Dixon late this afternoon from Cordova, where he has been visiting his mother.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By JANE PHELPS.

WHIMSICAL THOUGHTS KEEP BARBARA AWAKE. CHAPTER LXXII.

It was with such thoughts that I waited for Nell. My confidence fully restored—so I thought; my heart filled with love. It was long after midnight when he came in.

"I thought you never would come dear. I so wanted to explain things to you, and I have scarcely seen you since you came home," I said after kissing him.

"You will oblige me very much if you will postpone your explanation, or forget it altogether. I am very tired and in no mood for talk."

Of course I said no more. I felt sure something had happened to upset Nell; something unpleasant. Had it been at Blanche Orton's? The thought was upsetting to say the least. I wished it were morning and Mr. Frederick would come. I perhaps then would get at the cause of Nell's abrupt repulse to talk.

I was restless and unbidden thoughts many of them unwelcome filled my mind. I recalled the time I found the imprint of Blanche Orton's check on the blotter in Nell's office. Even as long ago as that she had been mixed up in his affairs in some way. I seemed to be having a streak of bad luck, almost. I had been so happy, then came Lorraine with the tale of Mr. Powers going to her father, and the other things I had heard. Nell was still angry with me, would not listen when I tried to tell him I had not meant anything wrong when I went to his office. Yes, I was unlucky just now.

Then with the abruptness with which we turn from one thing to another in the night when lying awake, I recalled seeing a long ladder I had seen a few days previous raised against a building. It was one of the double sort, stretched wide apart for safety. I watched the people as they approached it, recalling the old superstition anent passing under a ladder. Most of those who came along went way out into the street to avoid so, but occasionally I noticed someone would deliberately pass under the ladder. Finally quite an elderly woman came along laden with parcels, and she deliberately shifted her load so that she could pass under the ladder. I spoke to her.

"Why did you go under the ladder? It is bad luck isn't it?"

"No, Miss. It brings you good luck. Although some folks think the other way."

So as I lay wide-awake I thought that no matter what one did perhaps it didn't make much difference in the end. If you went around the ladder or under it, it all depended upon your point of view whether it brought luck or not. Wasn't it so with life? Then my thoughts shifted again to my hope for a social career, a successful one. I recalled the many lists of those whom I wished to cultivate I had made, and destroyed until the final one which suited me, was complete.

The clock struck four. I remembered nothing more until Ada called me. "It is nearly eight o'clock ma'am." I had not heard Nell when he got up, so soundly had I slept in the late morning. Now I heard the water running and knew he was in his bath. I should have to hurry. I did so want to talk to him. He had fallen asleep almost immediately he had gone to bed, and would be rested. Perhaps he would listen to me.

I was down almost as soon as he.

"Now Nell you must let me talk a little," I commenced after he had his first cup of coffee. "I didn't mean to do anything to displease you, anything wrong by going to your office. I did it because I loved you. If I did not, I shouldn't care so much when people told lies about your business." He scowled, making no reply. It wasn't going to be as easy to explain as I had imagined. "You see I had so planned upon having Mrs. Powers—and when Lorraine said Mr. Powers was the man who had warned her father—why—I thought I would find something to show that—oh, that everything was all right."

"I never want you to repeat that performance, Barbara," that was all he said. He kissed me good-bye in an absent-minded way. I was sure he was worried and anxious over something. It was exactly eleven o'clock when Ada announced Mr. Frederick. Now I should perhaps learn something of the cause.
